BUFFALO ON THE INCREASE

Latest Reports Show That the Animal Is Not Likely to Become Extinct, at Any Rate.

The fear that existed not long ago that the native buffalo would soon become extinct is dispelled by a report of the American Bison society, which states that there were 3,350 wild and tame buffalo in the United States in January, 1920. This is an increase of about 300 per cent since 1908, in which year there were 1,116 wild and tame buffalo in this country.

Of the nine government-owned herds, two of the largest under the care of the United States Department of Agriculture are located in the Wichita national game preserve, Oklahoma, and on the national bison range at Dixon, Mont. The herd on the Wichita preserve now numbers 154, including 28 calves of this year. In this herd four bulls and 12 cows are ten years of age or over, and one cow is twenty-nine years old. The 15 animals that constituted the original Wichita herd came from the New York Zoological park.

It is planned this year to dispose of some of the surplus buffalo in the government herds in accordance with the provisions made by the 1919 appropriation bill for their care. Public parks and municipalities are the largest patrons. By distributing the animals over the country, if disease or misfortune overtakes the main herds, there still will be stock left with which groups could be built up again.

WHY DRUGGISTS ARE BALD

Seemingly Their Duties Are Manifest, If They Would Satisfy Their Various "Customers."

"Now, what do you think of that?" said the druggist's clerk. "She wanted to know what Thanksgiving is for. Some people think a drug store is an information bureau."

"The other day a woman came in and wanted to know who discovered America. She said she had an argument with a friend about it, and they decided I must be the referee."

He had perched himself on top of a ladder and was trying to juggle three or four boxes at a time when a woman came in and after waiting a minute to be waited on knocked on the counter.

"I want a two-cent stamp in a hurry," she said. He gave her the stamp and made change from a $5 bill.

"Would you please give me the same kind of medicine that you gave to my mother the last time she came in?" she said.

"Who is your mother?" he asked. "You know my mother—the fat lady that always buys a bottle of soda every night."

Various Causes of Death.

It is illuminating to read the causes of death. In 1917—a typical year in which the figures were not complicated by the war—14.2 of every thousand persons in the United States died; out of every hundred thousand deaths 153.2 were from diseases of the heart, 149.8 from pneumonia, 146.4 from tuberculosis, 107.4 from kidney troubles, 82.9 from apoplexy, 81.6 from cancer, 79 from diarrhoea, 25.3 from diseases of the arteries, 17.2 from influenza, 16.9 from diabetes, 10.5 from diphtheria, 16.3 from bronchitis, 10.8 from accidents of all sorts. Arterial diseases and diabetes show an increase that is really alarming; for in 1900 only 6.1 per 100,000 died of the former, and only 9.7 the latter. These, with those of the heart and kidneys, are diseases that result directly from the strain and stress of modern life.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Sick Miner.

Judge Elbert H. Gary, on his return from Europe, discussed the English coal strike at a luncheon. "The men demanded an unconditional two-shilling increase," he said, "but the government couldn't very well grant them that, because each former increase had been followed by a decrease of output. So many miners you see found that they could make enough in three or four days to keep them all the week."

"So many miners, in fact, were like the sick miner. As the sick miner, pale and drawn, lay in his bed the doctor entered."

"I prescribe complete rest. You tired yourself out in the last strike."

Gave to "Unworthy Poor." A Missouri man has left a will establishing a fund for the aid of the poor of his town, Eldorado Springs, Mo., every Christmas. It is especially suggested that the gifts be distributed to unfortunate persons, "whether they are worthy or unworthy according to the standards of society."

Those in a position to give money to fellow beings in misfortune so long have insisted that the poor to be aided must be "worthy" that it is a great relief to find one man who does not attach the obnoxious string to his act of generosity. The ne'er-do-well with an empty stomach probably feels just as hungry as the pious person whose fortunes have fallen.—Detroit Free Press.

War Memorial on Mountain.

The furious battles fought during the war on the Hartmannswilckopf, in Alsace, will be commemorated by the erection upon its apex of a huge cross which will be visible from the Rhine valley. The monument will be erected on a portion of the summit of the mountain which will be considered as sacred ground.
